FURY OVER 'BIN PARTY'

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

BOSSSES at Harlow Council are planning a "wheelie good party" to celebrate its new refuse collection scheme despite widespread anger over the new bins.

The council's Tory leadership has arranged the "jolly" at the taxpayers' expense to reward staff and elected members for the change to cumbersome wheelie bins and complex recycling arrangements.

But Harlow's Labour councillors have boycotted the shindig at the Civic Centre on November 24 calling it a "senseless waste of money" and "a slap in the face" for residents.

"For Tories on Harlow Council to spend Harlow taxpayers' money on celebrating the wheelie bins is a disgrace," said Labour leader Councillor Mark Wilkinson.

"This is the biggest issue in Harlow for years and it is clear that homes in Harlow were just not built for wheelie bins.

"If homes are built with smaller front gardens and lead directly onto the street, where will people find the room to store these large bins?

"Elderly people are finding it hard to move them and it is clear that they are destroying people's pride in the way their streets and estates look.

"Harlow Tories should listen and learn rather than congratulating themselves on introducing wheelie bins which no-one wants."

Lib Dem Councillor Lorna Spenceley

also said she would not attend the event.

"I was absolutely staggered when I received an invitation to a jolly celebrating the introduction of wheeled bins to the town," she said.

But Cllr Tony Hall, chairman of the environment and community committee, defended the decision, saying: "A lot of councillors and officers worked very long hours, including postponing holidays, to make sure that this roll-out went as smoothly as possible.

"Rather than a celebration, the invitation to the event makes it very clear that it's a simple appreciation for the effort that members, staff across the council and contractors have put in to develop the scheme.

"Whatever residents' views, our staff and contractors have worked hard and shown dedication when implementing the new system."

Santa

CHRISTMAS came early for excited children at the Harvey Centre on Saturday when Santa swooped by to open his magical grotto.

Joined by reindeer Twinkle and Alice the Elf, the portly present-bearer welcomed youngsters into his winter wonderland to ask them what they wanted for Christmas.

The grand grotto opening was then followed by the first ever public performance by students of Garlands Theatre School.

Government initiative creates 158 new jobs

AN extra 158 jobs will be created in Harlow thanks to a £1bn Government initiative designed to help young people get back into work.

The Future Jobs Fund called on every local authority across the UK to bring forward ideas for jobs they could offer which could benefit their local area.

In return, the Government committed to provide matched funding of £6,500 per young person employed if bids were successful.

Roles created by the scheme in Harlow will range from landscape and biodiversity assistants, children's bus project assistants, gardeners and teaching assistants.

Nationally, the Future Jobs Fund has so far announced 95,000 new jobs across the country.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell said: "I am pleased that the effects of this Labour Government's extra investment during the downturn will begin to be felt locally with these 158 new jobs."

"The Tories oppose this help because they oppose spending any more money to help people through the downturn. Real help costs real money. This is the choice between Labour values and Conservative values locally."

"This also demonstrates that when Tory-controlled Harlow Council want to take up a Government's offer of funding, they will, which leaves hollow their oft-repeated cry that they cannot afford to reduce rents for council tenants this year."

"I repeat my call to Tory-controlled Harlow Council to accept the Government's offer of subsidy for council tenants."

The Future Jobs Fund forms part of the Government's pledge to protect Britain's young people from the effects of the global recession by offering work or training for every 18- to 24-year-old who is in danger of becoming long-term unemployed.

Kiddies' gifts stolen in burglary

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

CALLOUS burglars plundered the Christmas presents of a young Harlow family during a raid on a garage in Northbrooks.

Distraught mum and dad Toni Jewell and Lee Siggers now face having to tell their sons Charlie (10), Ben (6), Oliver (5) and George (2) that they will miss out this Christmas.

"It's heartbreaking," said upset Toni (28). "The baby and the oldest one had their main presents taken."

"In all it was £300 worth of stuff and has left us totally short for Christmas."

"We've had to start saving early for presents because two of the boys have birthdays in November and January."

Toni and Lee (31) are also trying to save for their wedding, planned for next October.

Between noon on Saturday October 31 and around 5pm on Monday, two black BMX bicycles, one electric mini quad bike and three children's scooters were stolen.

Everything was new and still in boxes. Other items such as expensive tools were not taken.

Toni appealed to Star readers for help in returning the presents and is going to put up posters around Harlow in an effort to help police catch the thieves.

"My oldest son absolutely fell in love with the bike sometime ago and has been telling me that I would be the best mum in the world if we got it for him for Christmas," she said.

"But they don't sell that model anymore, even if we could afford it."

"If someone had been offered them then please just contact the police."

Police are also appealing for information and witnesses to come forward.

A spokeswoman for Essex police said: "If you have any information please contact police at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111."

Car park shock for commuters as work starts on multi-storey PARKING chaos is expected at Harlow Town rail station from Monday as land is closed off to make way for a £3million, 700-space multi-storey car park.

Spaces at the current commuter car park, off Edinburgh Way, will be limited to 133 – a third of its current size and large enough for only season ticket holders.

Other drivers will be redirected to the NCP car park on Velizy Avenue, according to National Express East Anglia.

The car park currently holds around 400 cars, but the planned new three-tier multi-storey will create an additional 300 spaces.

A spokesman for National Express East Anglia said he believed there were no plans to sell off land for development.

"There will be extra spaces when combined with the spaces on the ground," he said.

"But the work is about improving the parking facilities at the station for users."

The Star understands the work could take as long as a year to complete.

The spokesman said: "Leaflets will be distributed among commuters and other users of the station and posters put up, letting them know exactly what the arrangements are so that they are fully aware of the changes."

"All our season ticket holders will be catered for while casual users will be able to use the NCP car park in the town centre."

"This is not very far away from the station and there are also regular buses between the two. Otherwise, they can find other arrangements for getting to the station."

Jason broke a wrist playing tambourine!

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE photograph of the Harlow Concert Band which we printed a couple of weeks ago stirred some happy – and one painful – memories for Star reader Jason Munda, who spotted himself in the picture.

Jason (34), of Bushey Croft, is fifth from the right in the second row down, standing next to a young lady – Joanna Lang – who was, a few years later, to become his wife.

Jason, who believes the picture was taken around 20 years ago, met Joanna in the band in which he played clarinet, saxophone and percussion from the age of 10 until he went to university to study music.

"At the time there was nowhere else for woodwind players to play," he said. "There was a brass band which obviously wind players couldn't play in.

"I remember playing on the back of a float at a fireworks party. We couldn't see anything from there; we had to just keep on playing."

He added: "One time I got a bit overexcited playing a tambourine and managed to break my wrist hitting it so hard. I knew I had broken it but I didn't want to stop or say anything because I knew the ribbing I would get!"

Jason is now a private music teacher and he and Joanna have a 2½-year-old son.

Another reader with memories of the band is Elizabeth Pike (nee Carter), who emailed Nostalgia after seeing the article.

"I remember playing the flute in the concert band around 1974-1976," she wrote. "I played with Sheila Green, who also played the flute, and her brother Malcolm who I think played the tuba or horn.

"We used to have band practice at Stewards School on a Wednesday evening if I recall correctly. Before Mike Pierce, the conductor was a Mr Dewdry who was a lovely man. "We had a great time and played in lots of places which, without everyone's commitment would never have been possible."

● Do you have any photographs of days gone by in Harlow that you would like to share with our thousands of readers? Send them to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ANOTHER picture that has generated a response is this one from the collection of the Museum of Harlow which shows young players at Latton Green Music School.

After we published it last month, Carole Hudson wrote in to tell us the teacher is her sister, Gill Ford.

Gill, a keen musician, was a member of the Netteswell School Band and played by invitation with the Essex Police Band. "Gill was amused to find that she now has her photo in a museum," said Carole.

Clare has also identified two other girls in the photograph – Nicola Pope (second from the right) and Nicola Williams (fourth from right).

Family desperate for bigger home

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A THREE-YEAR-OLD girl with severe respiratory problems is being forced to sleep in a cot because the two-bedroom council flat she shares with her parents and two sisters is 'too small'.

Tia Burt, who often has to sleep attached to a nebuliser at night due to breathing complications arising from a serious digestive disorder, is currently sleeping in her parents' bedroom at the flat in The Hides. Siblings Kayla (6) and Jasmine (8) share a single room.

Yet even though parents Kim and Colin have been bidding for a new council property for more than two years and Tia's consultant at Princess Alexandra Hospital has urged the authority to re-house the family for the sake of the tot's health, the Burts have been told they are not a high-priority case.

"I don't know what needs to happen for us to be given priority," Mrs Burt told the Star. "Tia will be starting school soon, but she's still sleeping in a cot because there's not enough room for another bed."

"Her consultant agrees that she needs to be in an environment where she can sleep comfortably and has backed up our bids for a new home, but we've yet to have any success."

Mrs Burt added that she and her husband both work for a living and have no council tax or rent arrears.

"I appreciate that council houses are in short supply, but we're at our wit's end and just want the best for our daughter, who has already had to go through so much for a little girl of her age."

Councillor Lee Dangerfield, chairman of the council's housing committee, claimed the authority was doing it all it could to support the family in finding a "settled housing solution".

"We appreciate their situation, but unfortunately, the demand for housing and houses in particular far exceeds supply," he said.

"The family's needs have been reviewed and assessed and they were allocated a Band 2 priority following a medical assessment supported by a consultant at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

"Whilst they have not been successful so far, we encourage them to keep bidding. If they feel that the CRAMPED: Tia Burt, (3), has to sleep in a cot in her parents Kim and Colin's bedroom, as there is no room in the flat she also shares with sisters Kayla and Jasmine for a bed.

medical condition has worsened, we would encourage them to seek a re-assessment."

Putting it all down in black and white

BLACK and white television sets are still in use in 21 homes in Harlow, according to the TV Licensing authority.

Despite Sunday marking the 40th anniversary of colour broadcasting first being transmitted on BBC1 and ITV, there are 28,000 homes nationally still watching in monotone.

A TV Licensing spokesperson warned: "Whether you watch in black and white on a 40-year-old TV set or in colour on a brand new 37in LCD flatscreen, you need to be covered by a TV Licence if watching or recording programmes as they are broadcast."

You need to be covered by a valid TV Licence if you watch or record TV as it's being broadcast. This includes the use of devices such as a computer, laptop, mobile phone or DVD/video recorder. A colour licence costs £142.50 and £48 for mono.

How Prince's Trust helped Simon to turn his life around

WELL DONE: Simon McLaren, left, with Steve Leverett of The Academies Enterprise Trust (s)

A FORMER gang member and drug addict from Harlow has won a prestigious award from The Prince's Trust after successfully turning his life around.

Simon McLaren (20), of The Dashes, was named the Academies Enterprise Trust Young Achiever of the Year at the trust's annual Celebrate Success awards held in Cambridge.

When Simon was part of a gang he stole, picked fights and caused criminal damage. He was also made homeless after his excessive drinking caused a rift with his family.

But after he was threatened with a loaded gun, Simon realised he needed to turn his back on a life of crime and went to The Prince's Trust for help.

He enrolled a programme which helps young people gain the confidence and motivation they need to get work, and then moved on to a Get Into Social Care course.

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

After successfully completing a work experience placement at a care home in Much Hadham, his employers were so impressed with his contribution they offered him a full-time job – his first after two years of unemployment.

Speaking after being presented with his award, Simon said: "I am over the moon. I felt honoured just to be nominated out of so many young people.

"I did not expect to win it; I am completely speechless. The Prince's Trust has completely changed my life."

Ian Foster, chairman of the Academies Enterprise Trust, said: "We congratulate Simon for winning this prestigious award.

"We are delighted to sponsor the Young Achiever of the Year Award, which celebrates the courage and commitment of a young person who has overcome adversity to change their life for the better."

Sisters' fundraiser for brave Maisie (4)

TWO sisters touched by the plight of a little girl from Harlow who is battling a rare and aggressive form of cancer have thrown a charity fundraiser to send her to EuroDisney.

Gemma Hainsby and Carly McLaughlin hosted the event at Bishop's Stortford Football Club on Friday for Maisie Weir, of Foldercroft, who was diagnosed with a rhabdoid tumour in June.

On average just three people are diagnosed with the disease in the UK each year. Doctors have given the four-year-old, pictured above with her family, a 25 per cent chance of survival.

Maisie's bravery in the face of her illness inspired Gemma and Carly to organise the fundraiser.

The money will be put towards sending Maisie on the holiday-of-a-lifetime to the EuroDisney resort in Paris with her parents Matt and Julia and six-year-old sister Charley-Ann. They will also make a donation to leading children's cancer charity CLIC Sargent.

Maisie's dad Matt said: "The fact that people want to help is very humbling. We think of ourselves as just a normal family so the support has been overwhelming."

Floral evening

HARLOW Flower Club hosts an evening of fun and fantastic floral designs at The Playhouse on Thursday when international floral demonstrator Mig Kimpton creates inspirational floral magic on stage.

Audience members can find out how they can turn their homes into Christmas wonderlands and even enter a raffle for the chance to win one of Mig's arrangements to take home.

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £11.50 from the Playhouse box office on (01279) 431945.

Reiki sessions

PATIENTS, staff and carers at the Breast Care Unit at St Margaret's Hospital in Epping now have the opportunity to experience an ancient Japanese natural healing therapy.

Reiki is said to be a healing energy which, when channelled through the hands of the practitioner, can assist in symptom control and improving quality of life.

Reiki practitioner Susan Critchley will hold the sessions on Thursday mornings.

She said: "The practitioner gently places their hands non-intrusively in a sequence of positions which cover the whole body. The whole person is treated rather than specific symptoms."

Go purple for pancreatic cancer funds

CHARITABLE Harlow residents are being urged to go purple next week in a bid to raise vital funds for Pancreatic Cancer UK.

The charity is asking people to get creative and organise Purple Days during Pancreatic Cancer Awareness Week to fundraise for what has become the fifth most common cause of cancer death in the UK.

It has the poorest survival rate of any form of the disease with just 15 per cent surviving one year and 3 per cent surviving five years compared to 80 per cent for breast cancer and 70 per cent for prostate cancer.

Ideas for fundraising events could include dress-down days at work, purple-themed parties, local football teams donning purple shirts or even a purple cake sale.

Anything will work as long as there is a purple theme and it generates much-needed cash for the charity's work.

Media medic Dr Sarah Jarvis said: "The words 'pancreatic cancer' strike fear into the heart of every doctor - and with good reason.

"While survival rates for many other cancers have rocketed in recent years, death rates for pancreatic cancer remain tragically high.

"We urgently need investment in research to bring hope to the many sufferers from this dreadful disease and their families."

Golf day raises super £3,500

CHARITABLE golfers swung into action for charity and raised more than £3,500 for St Clare Hospice.

Hilda Watt from the Manor of Groves Golf Club, in Sawbridgeworth, presented a cheque for £3534.60 to the hospice's Caroline Bore.

The money was raised at the members' Groves Day, in memory of Hilda's husband and former club captain Dick Watt.

No room for new bin? Dig up your garden!

Haye, you up for a fight, Bill?

HERE'S a heavyweight match-up you thought you'd never see: Harlow's own political big-hitter Bill Rammell MP squares up to new WBA world champion David Haye in a prize pic that has found its way to the Star newsdesk.

Mr Rammell towers over the boxing superstar at the opening of a new learning centre at Anglia Ruskin University in a picture taken around 18 months ago, when Haye was WBC Cruiserweight world champion. Haye on Saturday became the sixth British boxer to become heavyweight champion of the world after beating colossal 7ft Russian opponent Nikolay Valuev on points in Nuremburg, Germany.

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

RESIDENTS with nowhere suitable to store their newly-issued wheeled bins could be asked to dig up their lawns or flowerbeds in order to accommodate them, the Star can reveal.

The astonishing suggestion is buried in the text of Harlow Council's new waste and recycling collection policy, which was voted through by Conservative councillors at Thursday's special environment and community committee meeting.

Under the heading "Receptacle Determination", the document states: "It is foreseeable and contemplated that some residents will be required to place and store wheeled bins or containers on or in areas of their curtilage that may currently be utilised as lawn, flowerbed or for other traditional garden use."

The recommendation caused uproar among Liberal Democrat councillors attending the meeting, who voted against the implementation of the policy. Labour representatives abstained from the vote.

Speaking afterwards, Lib Dem councillor

Lorna Spenceley told the Star: "I couldn't possibly have supported the suggestion because I know how much time, effort and love many residents put in to tending to their gardens.

"For the administration to even dare suggest such a ridiculous idea as digging up your own garden just so your new bins have somewhere to live represents the height of arrogance.

"The way in which it has been slipped into the policy document, written in what is basically legal jargon, appears to reserve all sorts of rights for the authority to do as they wish - it's going to make a lot of people very angry."

Environment and community committee chairman Tony Hall claimed residents could decide on where to store their bins, but did not rule out the possibility of some households having to sacrifice part of their frontage.

"Residents who are allocated wheeled bins are advised to store these in an appropriate place, which could include on their front gardens," he said.

"The only defined place is where they present the bins for collection, it is up to residents to decide where and how they store them on their properties."

Residents now realise Tory standards

SIR, Over the past few months I have had the opportunity to speak to a number of people every week, with different political affiliations and with none.

There has been a remarkable amount of agreement about their views on the present Tory administration of Harlow.

As you have reported, local people have been very concerned about many of the Conservative decisions that have been taken.

In particular, there have been objections to the cuts in the Welfare Advice Service, the loss of services offered at the Leah Manning Centre, charging for car parking at the neighbourhood shopping areas, the refusal to take advantage of the opportunity to reduce rent increases and the reduction in the number of sheltered housing schemes. A sorry catalogue!

But the most vehement objections have been raised against the wheelee bins.

The main complaint has been that the Tories have ignored the opinion of Harlow residents.

They do want to increase the amount of recycling in the town and they also want a weekly collection of food waste.

But the general opinion is that wheelee bins are unsuitable for most of Harlow, particularly areas where there are long terraces of houses.

Many find the bins too difficult to handle and need to ask for assistance.

All object to the unsightliness of the bins left on the front of their properties.

The green aspect of our estates achieved by open fronts has been completely ruined.

Most families would have preferred to keep the old bins for the un-recyclable waste and see the wheelee bins as a great waste of money.

There is also confusion about what exactly can be recycled, especially plastic, where not only the type of plastic has to be taken into account, but also the shape of the container.

There is also resentment about the yellow/red card system. People object to being picked up on minor errors at the very beginning of the system coming into place.

Harlow is learning the hard way what it means to elect the Conservatives into power.

Voters are now considering what the result of another Tory government would mean to them.

Scale matters

SIR, In answer to Jim Rogers' criticism of my previous comments on climate warming (Letters, November 5), I feel he failed to understand the key points I was making.

Britain is a very small island off the coast of Europe with a comparatively small population.

Realistically, there is very little difference that we can make with all the knee-jerk restrictions we put on ourselves and our industries in the name of global warming when larger countries such as China that can make a difference refuse to do so.

Instead of British governments taxing us in the name of the environment, why do they not put an environmental tax on imports from China, thus convincing China of the need to control pollution and at the same time boosting our industries which have to function within tight EU standards.

The other main point I was making was that it has been proven that the insistence of western governments to embrace the capitalist economic system and dismiss all other forms is in itself detrimental to the welfare of the environment as predicted by Karl Marx many years ago.

It was ignored then as it is today and if governments refuse to address the main cause of waste and pollution, then how can any of us take their arguments seriously?

What Mr Rogers must understand is the bigger picture and Britain's very small part in the world with regards to global warming.

Don't axe TA

SIR, As chairman of Harlow Council until last May, one of my proudest moments came when I granted freedom to enter Harlow to our local Territorial Army unit.

Our MP and Armed Forces Minister, Bill Rammell, stood with me on a platform outside the Civic Centre to confer this honour upon the Essex Yeomanry.

Little did I know then that the Government was drawing up plans to abolish them.

Ministers of State would have known that generals and their administrators had been instructed to make cuts to help fund the Afghanistan war, now being fought at the cost of soldiers dead and maimed.

Robbing Peter to pay Paul is not new, but they are paying a high price to save Gordon Brown having to admit his economic policies have left this country unable to meet Tony Blair's commitment to fight on two major fronts.

Conservatives have forced Gordon Brown and Bill Rammell to climb down on the suspension of TA training but it appears Harlow's TA will still be sacrificed as their communications expertise is no longer necessary to modern warfare.

While that may be true, there are certainly shortages in fighting units and there would appear to be no reason why Harlow's unit could not convert to infantry or another role.

I have looked at our TA centre. It is certainly a great resource, but expensive to run, only used on two occasions per week and for occasional admin work. One way to cut costs would be to share this centre with other community groups or to share a facility elsewhere in the town.

I have asked the Reserve Forces & Cadets Association, which owns it, to talk about this but with no response. I find this particularly disappointing for the 30 cadets from Harlow who meet and train there.

They are our future soldiers, learning self-discipline, self-confidence, self-reliance and teamwork – all attributes to fit them for any walk of life while keeping them off the streets.

I call on our MP to join me to look again at how we might keep Harlow's TA unit. Chelmsford and Hertford are retaining their units and the Government's own growth agenda makes Harlow bigger and strategically better located than either of them.

MP has failed

SIR, I was dismayed to read that the TA centre in Harlow has been closed and I believe that this represents an immense personal failure on the part of our MP.

With the lack of equipment and helicopters provided to our soldiers, Mr Rammell, as Armed Forces Minister, has failed not only to safeguard the interests of our troops nationally, but those who are based in our constituency.

We have not had a straight answer from either Gordon Brown or Mr Rammell about the cuts to the training of our Armed Forces. What sort of a message does this send out to our local servicemen and women?

In two minds

SIR, As one of Bradley Wernham's victims, I am in two minds about his sentence ("Teen thief is given a rent-paid home", October 29). At first, I was livid, but I am trying to keep some perspective here.

If the police are just going to use this to bolster their metrics for solving crime, then I am not happy as the victims (including me) are not going to see justice, only a nice commendation for the police so they can clear their desks of unsolved crime.

If they find my car, that is a point in their favour. No news on it yet and it was only through the Star report of the court case that I came to learn that police had charged someone linked to my break-in and car theft! The police had told me nothing until I contacted them.

If the police break into the larger criminal ring and break it, then that's an even bigger plus point, preventing further crime escalation. Hopefully, the true leaders are put into jail with some lengthy sentences.

If Wernham breaks the conditions of his sentence, then he should be brought to account and face a lengthy jail term. He's already admitted to all of these offences and if he's not going to reform, then he really is stupid. I, for one, would take great satisfaction in him being sent down for a lengthy period. Let's see what he gives up for the law-abiding public's sake before we pass judgement on this ruling.

Bag drag

SIR, With reference to the letter from P. Cetin about stores using paper instead of plastic bags (Star, October 29), I totally agree that everyone should do more regarding recycling.

When I visited Primark on Sunday, I thought how nice it was to see this store using paper bags instead of plastic ones. Whilst standing in the queue one thought came to mind and that was I hoped these paper bags had been treated with a chemical to resist water.

On the way back to my car, the bottom of the bag came open and four brand new fleeces ended up in a puddle outside Asda.

Truly the best

SIR, I recently saw an article in your newspaper about Harlow's best neighbours and would like to tell you about mine

Back in April of this year I was diagnosed with a terminal medical condition and, as a result, I had to surrender my driving licence. I also found myself less physically able than previously.

As my wife was unable to drive, my neighbours Bob and Sandy immediately offered us transport to and from the supermarket to ensure we were able to keep the fridge and larder stocked with food.

In addition, my other neighbours, Brenda and Tony, ensured that the front garden was maintained and kept the grass at an appropriate level.

All of this was given and never asked for. It is at times like this that you find out how great your neighbours are and I am proud and lucky to say that both myself and my wife could not ask for nicer more caring and generous neighbours.

Harlow still has a community – well it does in Moorfield – and I would like to nominate my neighbours as Harlow's best.

Everything they have done they have done through pure kindness, never having to be asked.

Hundreds pay their respects to war dead

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE soaring number of our brave troops making the ultimate sacrifice for the war in Afghanistan moved many more people to honour the war dead at Harlow's Remembrance Day service this year, according to organisers.

Veterans, local dignitaries and residents attended Harlow War Memorial on Sunday to pay their respects to those who lost their lives in conflicts past and present.

"It was a very, very good turnout," said Valerie Fitz-John, Harlow branch secretary of the Royal British Legion.

"We had 350 programmes and they were all taken and many members of the public laid down their own wreaths after the official service was over.

"We have noticed a marked increase in support since so many have started to die in Afghanistan.

"There is a heightened public awareness of the casualties – even on Sunday, there was news of another fatality."

Thousands of people across Harlow observed the two-minute silence on Sunday and Armistice Day yesterday (Wednesday).

On Sunday, a parade started at Burnt Mill School before the main service was taken by the Rev Albert Watson at the Netteswell Cross Memorial in Town Park.

Later that evening, there was a Festival of Remembrance at The Playhouse, organised by the Royal British Legion and with music performed by the Harlow Concert Band.

The festival was attended by Lord Petrie, Lord Lieutenant of Essex and the County President.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell was also in attendance and said this year's commemorations were "particularly moving" for him, given his role as Minister for the Armed Forces.

"Whenever I meet with family members who have lost a loved one in conflict, I continue to be amazed by their strength and courage," he said.

"The service at Netteswell and the event at the Playhouse were both fitting tributes locally and I was pleased to see so many Harlow residents there to honour the veterans.

"We are enormously in the debt of our Armed Forces, past and present."

Councillor Edna Stevens, chairwoman of Harlow Council, added: "It was a great honour to lay a wreath and pay my respects on behalf of the local community to remember those who have served and continue to serve their country."

He's just a super fly (fishing) guy

IT looks as though this old Guy didn't fancy a trip to see the fireworks, choosing to while away his least favourite evening of the year with a spot of fishing instead.

Pranksters equipped the straw-filled effigy of Guy Fawkes with a fishing rod and chair and set him up on a platform in the middle of Netteswell Pond.

Bemused resident Herbert Thompson spotted the bizarre sight while out walking and sent

"He obviously didn't fancy getting burnt to cinders on the bonfire, so decided he would relax by doing a bit of fishing instead!" he said.

Tax changes could bring cash boost

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

RECENT changes to the welfare system could mean that dozens of families in Harlow may now be entitled to council tax and housing benefits.

Before Monday, families receiving Child Benefit had the money taken into account as "income" when applying for council tax and/or housing benefits, which took many over the threshold for entitlement to both or one of the benefits.

But now Harlow Council is urging people on low incomes, including those that may have been refused council tax or housing benefit previously, to check if new rules now allow them to claim.

Chairman of the Council's Policy and Resources Committee, Councillor Simon Carter, said: "This will be a welcome change for those that are on low incomes."

"To be refused benefits because of receiving a benefit was ridiculous. Child Benefit is to help all families and is not income in the true sense. I am very pleased that many families could now be better off."

"Child poverty is a serious issue at the current time and we want people take another look at their finances now that Child Benefit does not count."

The changes could also be good news for the local economy, with national research showing that 75p of every £1 claimed in benefit is spent in local shops and on local services.

To check whether you could now claim housing and/or council tax benefit, log on to an online calculator at <http://www.quickcalc.co.uk/harlow/index.htm>, visit the council's website at www.harlow.gov.uk or call (01279) 446633.

Surveyors work on regeneration plan

BUILDING surveyors working on behalf of Harlow Council have been in the town centre this week working on the proposed regeneration plans.

A team of experts, working for the council and development partners Stockland, were completing land and building surveys within the proposed development area.

Evidence from the surveys will help planners prepare the planning application, due to be submitted in summer 2010.

Surveys will be phased over 10 weeks, with the results fed to the architectural and planning team.

The surveying team will be starting in the Crown Gate area working north towards Fourth Avenue and then through the town centre.

The survey work will include properties in Broad Walk, East Gate, Post Office Road and right across the Town Centre

North site area. No access to buildings is required for the work.

Andy MacDonald, head of major projects for Stockland, said: "We want to deliver the benefits of the Town Centre North scheme at the earliest opportunity and this is a significant milestone."

Exam pupils to be given web access

SCHOOLCHILDREN in Denmark are being allowed to use the internet to help them in their final year exams in a pioneering scheme which could pave the way for other European countries to follow suit.

A total of 14 colleges are trying out the scheme and all schools in the country are being invited to join in by 2011.

Pupils will be given access to almost any website they choose but will be banned from sending pictures, emails or instant messages to anyone else.

The Danish government claims the internet should be included in examinations as it now forms such an important part of our day-to-day life.

Although teachers admit there will be no foolproof way to stop pupils from cheating, the exam questions are written in such a way to make it impossible to simply cut and paste answers from websites.

They will instead test a pupil's ability to check, understand and use information effectively.

Danish education minister Bertel Haarder said: "Our exams have to reflect daily life in the classroom and daily life in the classroom has to reflect life in society."

He added that he believed other European countries would soon follow Denmark's example.

But don't get your hopes up just yet as there are no plans at the moment for youngsters in the UK to go online to take their exams.

AT RISK: Cases of deadly equine respiratory disease strangles has broken out on Harlow Common

Horses at risk of strangles on Common

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A DEADLY respiratory disease affecting horses has broken out on Harlow Common.

Horse-owners are warning the highly-contagious infection known as strangles is at large and claim it may have originated from gypsies' horses tethered on the Common.

Ayla Davison, of Bush Fair, who keeps her two horses on the land, said: "I've only been told about it recently."

"Strangles itself can kill, but the main reason for its concern is the speed with which it spreads among horses."

The disease can spread quickly through direct contact between the animals. But it is also spread by human-to-horse contact and Mrs Davison is worried that pedestrians could unwittingly be passing on the disease.

She said: "As a horse owner myself, I am extremely worried and concerned for my horse's wellbeing. "I have a public footpath running alongside my horse's field and lots of people walk up and down this path with their dogs and often stop to stroke my horses."

"But they may have touched an infected horse and could easily be spreading the disease unknowingly."

Strangles starts with abscesses in the throat and can prevent the horse from breathing.

Early signs of the infection are flu-like symptoms, with horses being depressed and refusing to eat.

The disease can rapidly spread indirectly through hands and clothing and can survive in wood for up to eight weeks.

A spokeswoman for the RSPCA said: "If horses show any signs of illness, owners really need to get a vet out and have their animal checked straight away."

Through raising awareness and asking the people of Harlow to help, owners are hopeful its damage can be limited.

"I am urging everyone not to touch any horses at all as the disease can spread in this way. And owners need to keep horses away from each other," said Mrs Davison.

"As a nation of animal-lovers, I hope I will have the people of Harlow's support in this matter, so we can stop the spread of this awful disease."

Couple sought over theft of £12,000 from machine

SUSPECTS: Did you see this pair at a Lloyds ATM?

A MAN and a woman are wanted in connection an alleged £12,000 ATM card theft in Harlow.

Police have released CCTV images of two people they want to speak to in connection with the incident at Lloyds Bank in the town centre.

The victim entered his card into an ATM machine which then retained it and nearly £12,000 was stolen from the man's account.

Police enquiries later revealed the ATM front to be false.

A police spokeswoman said: "Never let anyone see you enter your pin number when at ATMs."

● If you have any information on this theft, which occurred 1pm on Sunday July 5, or you recognise these people, please contact officers at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or call the Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555111.

Help is at hand for the first-time homebuyer

NERVY lenders mean it is a tough time for first-time buyers to get on the housing ladder – but help is at hand, according to experts.

As part of our partnership with Barclays Money Skills to help readers make the most of their finances, the Star asked a mortgage adviser about the best ways to get that elusive first property.

Mortgage expert Tony D'Uva said lower house prices meant his firm had seen more enquiries. And while he said the biggest helping hand was mum and dad for many first-time buyers, with lenders demanding larger deposits than before the recession, there are schemes to help people out. Mr D'Uva said the most popular option was to go for shared ownership. The purchaser will buy a percentage of the property and will pay rent on the other part – with the key bonus being that the deposit required is much smaller. Owners can often choose to increase their share of the ownership at a later stage.

Another option is MyChoice HomeBuy, a Government scheme, which lends funds at a low interest rate, but because cash for this scheme is limited, it is not so easy to get it. Other buyers are taking the plunge and buying a house with their friends.

Mr D'Uva said many people were now trying to get their first house. "Shared ownership and the bank of mum and dad are able to help quite a few people."

Son wins legal fight

A HOSPITAL in Epping has been criticised by a health watchdog following an investigation into the death of an 86-year-old woman.

The medical records of Phyllis Foster at one stage even carried the advice "do not resuscitate".

This was despite neither Mrs Foster nor her son Robert Foster ever being consulted about what to do if her life was at risk.

She had initially been admitted to Whipps Cross Hospital in Leytonstone in December 2006 with heart and kidney problems.

There she acquired sores to her feet, was given an overdose of the potentially dangerous drug Warfarin and then released from hospital without her belongings.

Just five days later, she was readmitted to the Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow for treatment for an overdose, then transferred to St Margaret's Hospital, Epping.

There she had a number of falls, several of which the hospital failed to record.

After several weeks, Mrs Foster, from Theydon Bois, was again sent home without her belongings, including her walking frame.

She was readmitted two days later, but was sent home after a week. She died three days later.

Her son Mr Foster's complaint to Government watchdog, the Healthcare Commission, was argued by Harlow-based clinical negligence lawyers Attwaters.

The commission criticised the hospitals for allowing the bed sores, the manner of Mrs Foster's discharge from hospital, the treatment of her back pain and the way they dealt with her son's complaints.

They also concluded that the St Margaret's Hospital should examine their rules regarding the "do not resuscitate" recommendation.

Undisclosed compensation was agreed out of court.

Afterwards, Mr Foster said: "Whilst my mother was clearly unwell, I was unable to accept that she should have been treated in this appalling way."

"I felt I had to speak out and make a stand on her behalf and to try and ensure that the hospitals concerned learnt lessons so that other elderly patients would not be as badly treated as my mother was."

The Star approached West Essex Primary Care Trust for comment, but had not received a response as we went to press.

Time for Santas to get signed up!

WITH only three weeks to go until St Clare Hospice's inaugural Harlow Santa Run, time is running out for residents to sign up and make a real difference this Christmas.

More than 100 people have already signed up to take part in the festive fundraiser, but as December approaches more people are needed to ensure the run – supported by the Star – is a Christmas cracker.

"After an initial flurry of entries, our post has been a little quiet this week," said event fundraiser Tracy Meale. "Online entries continue to come in, but with only three weeks left to go, we are keen to encourage people to go online and sign up or drop in your registration forms, before it's too late."

This week, the fundraising team paid a visit to the Town Park Showground to organise where the entertainment stage will be put up, which will feature a live roadshow hosted by Ten 17 FM's Terry James and St Clare fundraiser Giles Wright.

With games, live music and sackfuls of festive fun, the day promises to be a real treat for the whole family and as an added bonus, the first 500 adults to sign up will be given a free Santa suit to wear on the day.

"We're not sure whether the recent postal strike may have held up some of the forms, but everyone needs to get their entry in so they receive their free Santa suit or free Santa hat for children," Tracy added.

Even those who are not particularly sporty are welcome to walk, push a pushchair or wheel their way around the 4km course – the important thing is for everyone to have fun and help raise as much money as possible for the hospice.

"We hope to raise £23,000 from this event which is enough to fund our In-Patient Unit for a whole week, but also provides much needed support to their friends and families," said Giles Wright, Communications Manager for St Clare.

It may seem like a long way off to Christmas, but with this exciting event on December 6, there's little over three weeks to go.

To sign up today, visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk or request an application form by calling the fundraising team on (01279) 773 750 or by returning the reply slip above.

Registration is £15 adults (16yrs and above) and £5 for children.

JEROUNDS: Sticky-fingered pupils sampled a range of sweet and savoury dips as they took part in a charity fundraiser.

Organised by mum Tessa Lucia, the Dunk-it Day saw children dunking everything from celery sticks to salt and vinegar crisps.

The event raised £108 for the Motor Neurone Disease Association, a charitable organisation dedicated to finding a cure for the debilitating disease.

The children were also given a short talk on MND and the work of the charity by regional fundraiser Roger Widdicombe.

Mrs Lucia, whose mother suffers from the disease and whose children attend Jerounds, told the Star: "I was very pleased with how the fundraiser went."

"It was a fun way to make children aware of Motor Neurone Disease while raising money for a good cause."

MILWARDS: Pupils were inspired to get on their bikes and take part in a virtual around-the-world race after a visit from globetrotting adventurer Alistair Humphreys.

dropped in at the Paringdon Road primary school to tell the children all about his gruelling four-year international bike trek, described by Sir Ranulph Fiennes as "the first great adventure of the 21st century".

Now pupils are about to help mirror his 46,000-mile trip by cycling to school over a four-week period. Every mile they and hundreds and other schoolchildren across the UK travel will be added to a virtual journey as part of the Bike-It event, organised by sustainable transport charity Sustrans.

Alistair said: "This is a great way of inspiring children to get the most from their bikes, as well as teaching them a whole range of other things from risk to geography and cultural awareness."

Eleven Harlow primary and secondary schools, along with a range of other public, private and voluntary sector organisations are consulting on the establishment of an Education Trust.

Parents and staff of schools involved are being separately consulted with. These public meetings are an opportunity for any interested members of the Harlow Community to find out about the Trust idea, the reasons for the proposal and possible benefits.

LEAPFROG NURSERY: Toddlers have been learning all about the importance of healthy eating after The Greenway nursery school teamed up with celebrity chef Phil Vickery to cook up some tasty treats.

The Michelin-starred chef has been working in partnership with Leapfrog's owners, Busy Bees, over the past year to create a selection of easily prepared recipes for the tots to take home to their parents in a handy ring-binder.

Each meal is specifically designed to provide children with a healthy, balanced diet. Dishes include sticky lime chicken strips and banana, yoghurt and fruit smoothie.

Nursery manager Kim Shinn said: "Busy Bees endeavour to provide freshly prepared quality food to all our children at the nursery."

"The recipe folders we are handing out to parents are a great way to inspire mums and dads and offer them a variety of healthy recipes they can cook at home for all the family."

PARINGDON JUNIOR: Children became pint-sized poets when the Paringdon Road school celebrated the virtues of verse.

Each class studied a different type of poetry - from sonnets and ballads to rhymes and limericks - searching for meanings and finding out more about structure before trying their hand at writing their very own masterpieces.

Headteacher Rose Pepper said: "Last week, the whole school took part in Poetry Week and every child wrote their own poem. "It was fantastic to see both boys and girls becoming writers and being creative with words.

"The children enjoyed using their imaginations and it let us show what was inside our heads as it was all our own ideas".

Kevin helps kids live HSM dream

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

A CELEBRITY choreographer from Harlow has teamed up with four of the UK's biggest High School Musical fans in an ambitious TV project to put on the show of their lives.

Kevin Adams, who has been a household name since appearing on the BBC's Fame Academy, will attempt to transform the hopefuls into dance stars in just four days for new series Club High School Musical: Make it Happen - which started on the Disney Channel UK last week and continues tomorrow (Friday) at 6pm.

"It is a challenge which embraces the true spirit of Disney's smash-hit movies; it's a celebration of friendship, teamwork and a passion for dance and music," he said.

"It's a huge task that these kids are embarking upon, but it's wonderful that they are living this dream together."

"It's not going to be easy, but I'm looking forward to being on hand to help them all the way."

The series will follow Paris Fosuhene (13), Joanne Mason (13), Reece Darlington-Delaire (12) and Max Sprecher (14), as they attempt to choreograph, perform and stage the show-stopping finale performance from the smash-hit film.

The fans are tasked with creating a routine to the hit song We're All in This Together and finding 500 kids to take part in the dance routine.

Think carefully before securing other debts against your home. Your home may be repossessed if you do not keep up repayments on your mortgage.

We do not charge a fee for our mortgage advice. However, we do offer a purely fee-based option with a charge of 1.5% of the loan amount.

Further good news this week with Abbey now offering loans to 85% at a good rate, indicating lenders are now contemplating lending to people with smaller deposits. Add to this the report from RICS stating they believe house prices will continue going up due to the lack of supply and high demand. If you are buying a property between £125k and £175k remember the Stamp Duty Holiday ends on the 31st of December. If you do not complete before Xmas you will be getting a bill for up to £1750 from the Government - HAPPY NEW YEAR!!!!!!

NEW OFFICE AND WEBSITE

We are pleased to celebrate the opening of our Old Harlow office. We are delighted to be located within the centre of Old Harlow amongst Solicitors, Surveyors, Accountants and other Estate & Letting Agents.

We have also just launched our new website which has been simplified to optimize the speed which properties are searched for. Every property has at least 8 photographs by clicking on the individual photographs the image balloons to 6' x 5' - a really decent viewing size!

We have been established in Harlow since 1987. For many years we were Town Centre based and over the last 22 years we have sold 1000's of properties and our database shows that many of our clients have moved to either Old Harlow, Church Langley, Newhall or the surrounding villages. We are now perfectly located to assist them all once more.

Having weathered the property recessions in 1990 and 2008/9 we are extremely excited about the future of the Harlow town housing market and should anybody be contemplating a move in the near future please call us for a free valuation.

Our enthusiasm and experience will not be matched. We promise to be straight talking, competitive and will try our utmost to make the whole moving process far less stressful.

Centurion - Inspired by the past with a great team for the future

A New Superhero For Church Langley

Sapphire Church Langley have landed!

new launch (not to be missed)
promotion

First 5 Homes To Be Sold Are Free!
& the next 10 are 1/2 price

Free
Free

0.7% thereafter

Due to the success of the Sapphire approach to selling homes in Harlow, we have decided to launch an office dedicated to Church Langley. At Sapphire we understand buyer behaviour and we know that buyers will tend to look online for properties as to looking in the high street, so rather than have expensive flashy premises; we invest our money in the marketing of your property online - that's what's most important.

Because our overheads are far lower than other high street estate agents, we can afford to offer lower commission fees. Once the promotional period is over properties can be sold for only 0.7%!

- No contracts to sign, No sole agency agreements, No tie ins.
- Only 0.7% to sell your property
- Unlimited marketing on Rightmove & other internet portals
- H.I.P.S. only £186 + VAT

Sapphire – The new hero for Church Langley, saving you both time & money!

Commercial Property Feature

MULLUCKS Wells has seen an increase in activity since the end of the summer break, with a rise in the number of viewings and offers being received. October saw lettings agreed on two offices at the Felsted Business Centre, pictured below, where an existing occupier is expanding into the 2,400 sq ft

Barn, freeing up their offices of 810 sq ft – the only accommodation now available within this high-quality office development.

In Bishop's Stortford, Step Corner, a 900 sq ft office building with extensive parking in the centre of town, has received a great deal of attention, culminating in three parties bidding for the lease and the letting being completed within seven days of solicitors being instructed.

Retail in Stortford has also seen its fair share of activity, with the letting of premises in Florence Walk and the new units for sale at 90-96 South Street enjoying rekindled interest, with the sale of No94 agreed.

The letting of a further unit at Carlton Place, Saffron Walden, has been agreed, with discussions continuing for other units on the estate.

"The number of enquiries being received has increased in the last two months and is up by about one-third on the same period last year," said Kirstine Brown, of Mullucks Wells.

"There appears to be a balance between those companies seeking to reduce costs as well as those implementing expansion plans or just taking advantage of their lease end to improve their premises or location."

Signs of optimism as inquiries rise by third

Taking a swig from the bottle of garage blues

what's on at The Square

TONIGHT: Another Thursday night, another cornucopia of phantasmagorical new bands performing for your aural pleasure. This evening's menu features Italian-born, London-based post-rock dreamweavers Sleeping With Antares, prog-rock instrumentalists Rosenbridge and frantic post-punk noiseniks Auto De Fe. Doors are at 8pm and tickets cost £4 (free for members).

FRIDAY: Prepare yourself for an evening of Guinness-swilling psycho-Celtic insanity as legendary London-Irish punk-fiddlers Neck descend on the town. The splenetic, drunken lovechild of Shane MacGowan and Joe Strummer dance like embarrassing uncles as they whip up a head-splittingly potent brew of raucous Year Zero punk and anthemic Irish folk. Support comes from spit 'n' sawdust punks, Antibodies. Tickets for the 8pm gig cost £7 (£6 members).

SATURDAY: In yet another coup de grace for those affable chaps at The Square, spiky new wavers Good Shoes, pictured below, shuffle into town tonight for an evening of polished, punchy post-punk. Having taken a brief hiatus following the success of their 2007 debut album Think Before You Speak, the well-heeled south London four-piece are back with added sole (geddit?). Expect biting social satire, teenage angst and mathematical riffs, with support from trendy New Cross punk-pop alchemists La Shark. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost a mere £9 (£8 members).

I RATHER like garage. I'm not talking of the 'garage' people of certain age would associate with lost weekends spent prancing around listlessly in an Ayia Napa warehouse, but more specifically the filthy, unwashed and decidedly inebriated cousin of the blues.

Although there's no doubt that only so much can be done with a bottle of moonshine, four chords and half a guitar, the appeal of garage-rock has little time for the yawnsome technicalities of musicianship – it's all about the dangerous levels of adrenaline coursing through the veins of the shouty people on the stage.

And at a time when most new bands opt to espouse the look at our moody black-and-white photos, swoon at our boring pseudo-epic choruses and pretend to understand our unintelligible weepy laments route to success, it's mightily refreshing to head to The Square and get kicked in the face with a freakbeat whirlwind instead.

No one exemplified this gleefully wanton attitude better than local psych legends The Freaks, who ripped up the rock'n'roll rulebook, drenched it in single malt and fashioned it into a series of breathlessly-thrilling, breakneck blues attacks.

French Kissing, meanwhile, somehow

REVIEW

Squirrel Skin Slippers The Square, Harlow

managed to cram more hooks into one of the shortest, tightest sets ever witnessed than most bands achieve in a career and still found time to congratulate Harlow on the quality of its local noodle bar inbetween their shimmering psych-pop nuggets.

Openers Bon Vivants operated somewhere in between the feral garage and wide-eyed psych that was to follow, purveyors of the kind of twisted lo-fi that creeps into your brain and quietly sets up camp.

But it was perhaps fabulously-named headliners Squirrel Skin Slippers who offered the evening's most beguiling set. Shambling onto the stage in a flurry of plaid shirts and impossibly-tight trousers, they looked like Jack 'n' Meg's trendy ranch-hand cousins and played hauntingly discordant delta blues which shimmered and swirled like morning mist on the Mississippi.

So much thanks, applause and cap-doffing once again to those talent-spotters at The Square. Can they do no wrong? Tune in next week to find out...

Dance show a real thriller as youngsters shine in spotlight

HARLOW Playhouse was overrun with wicked witches and gruesome ghouls when local performing arts school Addicted To Dance performed its spectacularly spine-tingling debut show at the theatre this Hallowe'en.

Opening with a spooky rendition of Michael Jackson's Thriller, Take a Bow 2009 marked the culmination of a year of hard work by the cast of talented youngsters aged three-19.

The show, which featured professionally choreographed street, jazz, ballet, tap and modern dance routines, was completely funded through money raised by the students themselves over the past 12 months.

Production assistant Michelle Skingley said: "Each and every one of them danced their hearts out and relished every second they had in the spotlight. "Despite the occasional wardrobe and sound malfunctions, the show did go on and they carried on with complete professionalism, especially Chloe Ewing and Alannah Carroll whose singing debut were performed without the use of their microphones.

"The complex choreography and dance routines coupled with an energetic soundtrack and fantastic performances from all the cast, provided the audience with the best Addicted to Dance show they had ever seen and a great night out for all!"

● To find out more about the Harlow-based dance school, contact principal Nicole Murton on (07947) 686983.

The two-hour concert kicks off at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16 (£15 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

still showing

A CHRISTMAS CAROL (3D + 2D): Computer-generated adaptation of the timeless feelgood Christmas tale by Charles Dickens. Jim Carrey provides the voice of miserly misanthrope Scrooge, who is forced to reassess his cruel ways following three ghostly visits from the spirits of Christmas past, present and future.

THE FOURTH KIND: Chilling fact-based thriller based upon an ongoing unsolved mystery in Alaska, where one town has seen an extraordinary number of unexplained disappearances during the past 40 years and accusations of a federal cover-up of paranormal activity abound.

THE MEN THAT STARE AT GOATS: Offbeat comedy starring George Clooney and Kevin Spacey in which a reporter in Iraq thinks he may have found the story of a lifetime when he meets a man claiming to be a former member of the U.S. Army's First Earth Battalion, a unit trained to employ paranormal powers.

MICHAEL JACKSON'S THIS IS IT: Hastily constructed from hundreds of hours of backstage and rehearsal footage, Kenny Ortega's documentary is a glowing tribute to the late King of Pop focusing on the build-up to the greatest pop concert never staged.

FANTASTIC MR FOX: Achingly-hip indie director Wes Anderson brings his weird and wacky sensibilities to bear on this stop-motion adaptation of Roald Dahl's classic children's tale, with lead voices from George Clooney and Meryl Streep.

certificate 18 1h 43m

BRITAIN is broken, almost beyond repair. Knife crime has, shockingly, become part of everyone's lives as teenagers take their arguments on to the streets.

Fear and insecurity fan the flames of racism and intolerance, while our prisons are full to bursting as police struggle to maintain law and order.

In these dark and depressing times, unlikely heroes make a stand against all of the savagery.

For Daniel Barber's brutal and uncompromising directorial debut, that hero is a retired Marine, whose best friend dies at the hands of a gang of yobs. Rather than sit back and let these animals run amok, the old-timer vows revenge by speaking the only language that these young men and women know: punishment.

Sir Michael Caine delivers one of his finest performances for years in a role thematically reminiscent of Clint Eastwood's harrowing thriller Gran Torino. Barber's film is more gritty and hard-hitting, opening with a gang initiation that comprises shooting a nameless woman on the street.

It is the first of many instances of senseless bloodletting as the tightly-wound narrative leads the eponymous vigilante on a heartbreaking tour of squalid drug dens and crime-riddled housing estates.

Harry Brown (Caine) is a widower who lives alone now his wife has passed away, on a housing estate which is under the control of a gang of thugs led by the sadistic Noel Winters (Ben Drew).

The war veteran's closest pal Leonard (David Bradley) is being terrorised by Noel's posse – they push dog faeces through his letterbox and even set fire to the old man's doormat.

"I'm not going to take it anymore," sobs Leonard, revealing a concealed blade he will use to protect himself. A day later, DCI Frampton (Emily Mortimer) and sidekick Hicock (Charlie Creed-Miles) arrive with desperate news: Leonard has been found stabbed to death in an underpass.

Harry swears revenge and sets about tracking down the young men who killed his pal, then makes sure they pay for their heinous crime with their sad, worthless lives.

Harry Brown is an incredibly accomplished debut for British director Barber.

The film strikes very few false emotional notes, emboldened by Caine's fearless and mesmerising lead performance as a man with nothing to lose, who may very well pay with his life as he doles out tough justice.

Gary Young's script focuses almost entirely on life through a grimy lens, but there are odd glimmers of wry humour, such as when Frampton's superior DI Andrew Childs (Iain Glen) deadpans incredulously: "You're telling me this escalating violence is the result of a vigilante pensioner?"

By necessity, scenes of violence are graphic and unsettling, punctuating a narrative that doesn't pretend to hold any easy answers to 21st-century social malaise.

Britain is gravely ill and there is no cure in sight.

The world ends in trashy style

CANCELLE The London Summer Olympic Games!

Our time on the third rock from the sun will come to a dramatic end on December 21, 2012, when planets align as decreed by the Mayan calendar.

If the end of days is truly upon us, we may as well go out with a bang. And that's certainly what director Roland

certificate 12A
2h 38m

Emmerich does in his gloriously overblown and knowingly trashy disaster epic. Having previously destroyed all the major cities during an alien invasion (Independence Day) and plunged the globe back into the Ice Age (The Day After Tomorrow), the Germany-born filmmaker goes one better in 2012 by attempting to wipe out the entire human race.

Every nickel and dime of the reported $260 million (£155m) budget is up there on the screen as he gleefully references all of the disaster movie clichés in big-budget overblown fashion.

to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
As the speedy Mercury zips into the most flamboyant of areas, this can give you an appetite for razzle dazzle, and for a certain amount of expansion and change. Things have undoubtedly been intense of late, and this can help to lighten the vibes. With Saturn's support, a good time to reach agreements or settlements but don't take a pal for granted. Call for more news and astral advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
A lot of positive communication can flow back and forth, but with the Sun and Neptune at a querulous angle, unique thing now, is that don't trust absolutely more than one person everything that you are told. Fortunately, Mercury firmly in their sights. How is going to help you to see the wood from the trees, a boost to your ego or will so if someone makes it create complications outlandish claims, or tries to sell you something improbable, you'll soon keep relationships wise up to them. Even if it seems that everyone is seizing on the odd innocent remark and doing their best to ignore the big picture - at least as you see it, events are heading in the right direction more than may appear to be the case. All you can do is keep extending positively, and this week the responses will start to improve. Before long you will be chatting away quite happily. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
If you are keen to push on with home improvements - especially if you are mindful of having visitors coming to stay over the winter holidays, the move of Mercury gives you an ideal incentive to grapple with the nitty-gritty.

Particular satisfaction can be gained from fixing or upgrading a key area. In love however, fascination and confusion can blur. Call me now Cancer for your love scope in full...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
There have been some emotional moments of late, and with the Sun clashing with Neptune, one relationship can continue to be a thorn in your side as far as peace of mind is concerned - especially if someone remains illusive or unreliable. Yet Mercury and Saturn urge you to get practical, to think and act in facts. Such pursuits can be healing, but your special prediction line for more advice...

Venus and Mars are the planets of love and raunchiness, yet they are aggravating one another. This could see you have fanciful thoughts about someone you have potential and from your past, or see you encourage a partner share an event which has not been lead to tensions, but you previously discussed, probably won't take kindly to. The most compatible of lies are those destined to endure. But what about the complex equation of chemistry, attraction and challenge? Many people crave this kind of excitement, and the thrill of the chase. Fast moving Mercury enters your sign, which is definitely good news. In its angle to Saturn, this can see solid progress made around future orientated plans, which give you an opportunity to deploy any powers of organization you have. Yet there can still be rumbles in the background. Not everyone will play by your rules Archer, do be realistic about this. Call now for more news and advice...

Someone may ask for your help. However, with Neptune weaving an illusive angle to the Sun, don't confuse nobleness with common sense. If you're someone who tends to be a little bit cautious around your love life, don't let the chance to go on a date be a sudden desire to be more go-getting as a sign that you will end up getting the type of person that you deserve. Peugeot's extended family

With its splendid seven-seat layout, where the second row also folds to liberate a vast load area, the Peugeot 5008 provides highly polished road performance. IAIN DOOLEY takes it for a drive.

BUOYED by the positive comments from the press regarding its 3008 compact people carrier, Peugeot is hoping for the same positive reaction from its larger 5008.

With the French car maker having successfully pitched its 3008 as not a people carrier but a crossover vehicle in same vein as Nissan's Qashqai, it believes stepping up a size shouldn't mean having to sacrifice driving appeal. Vauxhall's Zafira proved that seven seats in a regular size car were possible and Peugeot's 5008 has been designed from the outset to add conventional car ride and handling characteristics to keep drivers who need that extra space from feeling like they're driving a pup.

With the 3008 proving that a spacious hatchback can be practical and enjoyable to drive, the 5008 goes one step further with its seven-seat layout. Like the Zafira, the 5008's rear-most pair of seats can be folded flat into the boot floor. The second row also folds to liberate a vast load area.

Previously you'd have needed a lumbering great estate car for this purpose but not any more. The 5008 boasts a mammoth 2,506 litres of space with all the seats down or a commendable 823 with the front two rows in place.

Furthermore, access to the rear-most seats is straightforward. A clever folding mechanism eases your way in, while despite the modest amount of headroom an average size adult is unlikely to complain on a short trip to the pub. Realistically the rear chairs are better suited to the smallest members of the family.

Also proving no cause for complaint is the 5008's overall high level of quality. The car follows the 3008 and 308 in being the latest to benefit from Peugeot's new-found focus on fit, finish and the use of high class materials. Positive comparisons with Toyota, Honda and even Audi are genuine and well earned.

On road performance is also highly polished. Much effort has been expended on the 5008's ride, handling and engine range. The latter consists of a mix of 1.6 and 2.0-litre engines, petrol and diesel, with some the result of co-operation with BMW.

The 1.6-litre, 156bhp turbo petrol unit, is quiet, refined and willing, while the same is true of the 150bhp, 2.0-litre diesel unit. Six-speed manual gearboxes, plus an automated manual for the 110bhp diesel, are standard issue while economy and CO₂ are all impressive.

Along with a long list of standard and optional equipment depending on the trim level (Active, Sport, Exclusive) such as numerous airbags, a head-up display, impressive audio system, sat-nav, Bluetooth phone connection and rear seat screens for DVD or video game inputs, the 5008's trump card is the way it drives.

With the focus on balancing drivability and comfort, the result is, at 4.5 metres, a big car that behaves more like a family hatchback. It grips, steers and brakes with a polish that's sadly lacking from most mid-size SUVs. Peugeot's famous and uniquely supple ride is back, while the driving position strikes a comfortable balance between lofty SUV and easy-to-access family runabout.

Looking less like a people carrier and more like a low-slung shooting brake, Peugeot's sleek 5008 is one of those rare beasts: something that drives well, comes with plenty of kit, looks good, is practical, spacious and doesn't cost the earth. It almost makes you want to start a family to enjoy it.

We were so amazed by the response to last month's Open Week, 'How to become an Executive PA earning £40k per annum.....' We're having another one!

What's your dream for the future? A great salary, a job you love... not to mention the all important extras, like a cool car, a fabulous wardrobe, and nights out at the best clubs and restaurants? Well, it needn't be a dream. As an Executive PA you can obtain the salary and the lifestyle you really want before you leave your twenties.

What's more, the role of an Executive PA provides you with a truly rewarding career. As well as a high salary, you'll have responsibility, challenge, variety and respect - because you'll be the most valuable and often indispensable person your boss employs. But... to become a first class Exec PA, you need first class skills. The Pitman Training Executive PA Diploma will give you those skills... and help you command the kind of salary that will realise your lifestyle dreams.

Pitman Training is Britain's longest established training company and one of the most highly respected in the business. We help thousands of people each year fulfil their dreams. So whether you're looking for a new job, a pay rise, or want to live the dream with a career as an Executive PA, give us a call.

Essex County Council

(Footpath 72, Abbess Roding, Beauchamp Roding and Berners Roding & Footpath 41, Margaret Roding) (Temporary Prohibition of Use) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close the following footpaths:

Public Footpath 72 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding; from its junction with Public Footpath 23 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding northerly to its junction with Public Footpath 41 Margaret Roding, at the River Roding, a total distance of approximately 140 metres.

Public Footpath 41 Margaret Roding; from its junction with Public Footpath 72 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding, at the River Roding, northerly to its junction with Public Footpath 40 Margaret Roding, a total distance of approximately 280 metres.

This Order will replace 'The Essex County Council (Footpaths 71 and 41, Abbess Roding, Beauchamp Roding, Berners Roding and Margaret Roding) (Temporary Prohibition of Use) Order 2009' and will correct the anomaly of the reference to Footpath 71 instead of Footpath 72.

The closures are scheduled to commence on 14 November 2009 for 6 months, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and are required due to the likelihood of danger to the public because of the condition of the footbridge over the River Roding. A replacement footbridge will be installed and the footpath will reopen for public use as soon as possible.

The alternative route will be via Public Footpath 23 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding, north-westerly, the B184 Dunmow Road, northerly, Public Footpath 21 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding, north-easterly, Public Footpath 22 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding and Public Footpath 5 Margaret Roding, easterly and Public Footpath 41 Margaret Roding, southerly.

The Order will come into effect on 14 November 2009 and may continue in force for 6 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(A414 Glovers Interchange (South Bridge), North Weald Bassett) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close A414 Glovers Interchange (South Bridge), North Weald Bassett, in the District of Epping Forest, from the junction of the westbound A414 and the southbound access road onto the M11, west, for a distance of approximately 140 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 16 November 2009 for 2 nights between the hours of 21:00 and 06:00, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce to enable a permanent replacement of the expansion joint on the bridge to be installed.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

For M11 northbound, Harlow and Epping bound traffic, the alternative route will be via B181 (High Road, Epping Road, The Plain), and B1393 (Thornwood Road, High Road, London Road).

The Order will come into effect on 16 November 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(First Avenue, Harlow)

(Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of First Avenue in the District of Harlow from its junction with Howard Way proceeding east to its junction with the A414.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 25 November 2009 - 8 December 2009 between the hours of 8.00pm to 6.00am or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst resurfacing works are undertaken.

The alternative route will be via Howard Way - Edinburgh Way - A414 and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 25 November 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 12 November 2009.

New boys star in win

SKIPPER Joe Symonds' decision to make changes after last week's defeat paid off as his Harlow side won comfortably at Witham.

Keeper Adam Johnson came into Saturday's line-up, alongside Stuart Kirk at right wing.

The visitors looked dangerous from the start and created numerous chances and won plenty of short corners.

The deadlock was broken midway through the first half from the penalty spot. James Smith's shot was stopped on the goal line by a defender's foot and Adam Ottley coolly slotted the spot-kick beyond the keeper.

The lead was doubled

Witham 1, Harlow 5
East Men's Hockey League, division four south east five minutes before half-time when Smith took advantage of a new rule this season which allows a player to take a free hit to himself. This caught the Witham defence off guard and, after taking the ball around four defenders, he created space to dispatch the ball into the far corner.

The second half was much more competitive with Witham creating their own chances. Their best came from a short corner but Johnson pulled off a wonderful save, diving to his right and pushing the ball around a post with his outstretched stick.

Directly after this chance Harlow made the game safe with a third. Rob Chandler's shot from just inside the D took a wicked deflection off a defender's foot, taking the ball past the keeper.

This goal deflated the hosts and Harlow grabbed a fourth. Stuart Kirk chased a back pass to the Witham sweeper before tackling him right on the edge of the area, taking the ball around the keeper and tapping in from close range.

The Harlow scoring was completed when Chris Shearman-Slack ran from the halfway line, leaving defenders in his wake, before hitting a post. But man-of-the-match Kirk followed up to stab home the rebound.

Witham notched a consolation goal late on.

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Plumridge, Symonds (c), Jones, Krzoska, Smith, Shearman-Slack, Ottley, Kirk, Chandler.

Rushton double seals draw

HARLOW held Southend II to a 2-2 draw in the Essex Women's Hockey League premier division.

It was the side's first game following the death of keeper Nicky Newland in a car crash.

Following a minute's silence at the start, Harlow dominated and Carolyn Rushton had time to pick her spot and shoot high into the net.

The visitors continued to harry the Southend defence but the home side regrouped and forced two excellent stops on the line by defender Jo Green.

With 12 minutes to go to half-time, however, a stray pass found a Southend forward at the edge of the area and her fine run gave keeper Linda Rowley no chance as she calmly slotted home.

Michelle Stanesby's close-range effort went wide of a post seconds before the break.

Southend took the lead on 57 minutes but Harlow dug deep and captain Emma Tweddle forced a short corner with 10 minutes remaining. Her pass from the resulting set-piece found Sonya Amos on the edge of the D who slipped a neat pass to Rushton and she pushed home her second goal of the game to snatch a draw.

Harlow are 5th in the table.

HARLOW: Rowley, Shearman-Slack, Trimble, Jo Green, Douglas, Rushton, Tweddle, Ferdinando, Figg, Amos, Stanesby.

● DESPITE taking an early lead, Harlow II lost 5-1 at Havering in division three of the Essex Women's Hockey League.

Nicole Donaghey struck on two minutes but Harlow conceded five. Harlow are eighth in the table.

Ladies go third with fourth victory

A FOURTH consecutive win was recorded by Harlow Ladies when they won 20-0 at East Grinstead in the RFU Women's League East Two on Sunday.

The Rams went ahead after a backs move ended with Sarah Stimpson cutting through to score an unconverted try.

Rebecca Conway scored Harlow's second unconverted try just before the break when she touched down in the corner.

Simpson made it 15-0 when she exploited a gap to score and, after Conway pulled off a try-saving tackle, Abbi Perry sprinted through for Harlow's final unconverted try in the last minute.

Harlow are third.

Hawks pounce on Panthers

University of East Anglia Panthers 54, Harlow Hawks 64

National Founders Basketball Cup, East group game

AN awful start was overcome as Harlow Hawks beat University of East Anglia Panthers to record a second victory in three days.

The Hawks had a poor first quarter on Sunday and in spite of a brief spell when Shab Niaz hit two three-pointers, trailed 23-14 going into the second quarter.

This period started cagily and neither team scored in the first two minutes but the Hawks improved and the hosts led by only two points (31-29) at the halfway stage.

The Hawks started and ended the third quarter poorly but in between enjoyed a 12-2 run, during which Nick Moss chipped in with five points.

The final quarter saw Hawks' Rimas Norkeliunas take over. He worked tirelessly at both ends.

He proved a real handful for the Panthers defence and picked up a lot of rebounds when on defence himself.

The visitors had two good runs of 7-2 and 13-4 to put the match beyond the Panthers.

HARLOW HAWKS: Norkeliunas (18pts), Moss (16), S. Niaz (15), Freeman (7), Allan (6), Jones (2), Burgess, Z. Niaz.

● HARLOW Hawks secured a century of points for the first time in two seasons when they defeated Circus Houghton Raiders 100-71 at home in division one of the Herts County League.

Scorers were player-coach Shab Niaz (28), Moss (16), Freeman (15), Z. Niaz (11), Spashett (9), Allan (8), Norkeliunas (6), Haddow (5) and Jones (2).

Tunnel bust-up as three see red

THE Hawks lacked skill and penetration as they slipped to defeat to 10-man Ilford in an ill-tempered match.

Saturday's game was marred by a tunnel bust-up at half-time as Ilford manager Chris Wood and assistant boss Michael Thompson were both sent off by the referee for using foul and abusive language.

Ilford's Anton Dwyer was then sent off on 58 minutes after picking up a second bookable offence for simulation following an incident with Harlow Town midfielder Evyong Tambeson.

There were five other bookings with Ilford's Anton Trice, Harry Chalk, Aaron Scott and Getro Kilapi being cautioned for fouls. Tambeson (foul) was the only Harlow player in the book.

Basement side Harlow produced some nice moves but lacked the ability to stretch Ilford in the last third while the visitors looked dangerous on the counter-attack, with either 10 or 11 players!

Ilford went ahead on 14 minutes. A long ball exposed Harlow's defence and keeper Jamie Waite hesitated and allowed Dwyer to poke past him from the edge of the box.

At the other end, Harlow midfielder Oliver Cleaver was influential and he came close with a 25-yard shot on 31 minutes before the Hawks almost equalised on 44 minutes.

A free-kick fell loose but Neil Thompson's shot was palmed onto a post by Robert Budd and cleared to safety.

On 53 minutes Michael Pelley cleared a goal-bound shot from Dwyer shortly before the latter was sent off.

Ten minutes after Ilford went down to 10, they doubled their advantage. Chalk's pass found Junior Appiah in space on the right and he fired in a 25-yard low, swerving shot which beat Waite at the far post.

Substitute Jason Mason sparked some life into Harlow firing just over, before the hosts got a goal back on 83 minutes. Mervin Abraham set up substitute Ashley Taylor-Forbes and he bundled the ball home.

Despite more Harlow pressure and nine minutes stoppage time, an equaliser was elusive.

Harlow assistant boss Glynn Mason said: "The first goal was bad. Our keeper should have come out for it. We had lots of possession in the first half and should have got something out of it."

"We did not stretch them enough when they had 10 and we now badly need a win [in the league]."

HARLOW Tn: Waite 4, Christian 5 (Taylor-Forbes 45, 6), Cleo 6, Pelley 6, Tambeson 6, Lambert 6 (Mason 72), Akinnawo 5, Cleaver 7, Thompson 5 (Osei 79), Simpson 6, Abraham 5. Subs not used: Clary, Edwards. Att: 162.

Rams bounce back to move clear of drop zone

AN encouraging home win for Harlow was marred by Mark Twiner suffering a dislocation of the elbow.

The Rams lock sustained the injury 15 minutes into Saturday's match against Ipswich, which was delayed for 10 minutes.

Twiner was taken to Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital by ambulance and was released on the same day after having his elbow put in a plaster cast.

He was replaced on the pitch by Paul Eynon, playing his first game since sustaining an Achilles injury. Eynon's presence boosted the Rams' attacking potential.

The victory was a morale-booster after last week's shattering 82-5 RFU Intermediate Cup defeat against Hemel Hempstead.

Harlow resisted early pressure from the Suffolk side.

The Rams went ahead on 25 minutes after setting up a good rolling maul from a line-out which ended with Paul Prindville touching down an unconverted try.

Harlow's lead was extended three minutes later. After Ipswich lost possession, the ball was kicked ahead and chased down by Eynon who scooped it up, shook off the challenges of two players and touched down for a second unconverted try.

Ipswich cut the deficit on 35 minutes when their full-back found a gap and touched down for an unconverted try. Immediately from the re-start, Darren Hawkins was on the front of another Harlow forward charge and outpaced the defence to touch down next to the posts.

Michael Dobson kicked the conversion and Harlow led 17-5 at the break.

The hosts virtually guaranteed victory when they scored on 48 minutes.

Harlow won the ball against the head at an Ipswich scrum and it went down the line before the irrepressible Lee Harron looped across, took an inside pass, and cut inside for a try. Dobson kicked the conversion.

Ipswich bounced back with an unconverted try before a solo break from Dobson saw him wrong-foot the home defence to score a try which he converted.

Ipswich came back strongly from the kick-off with an unconverted try.

Five minutes before the end, Kane Claridge was yellow carded for a dangerous tackle but Harlow held on. The win moved the Rams to 8th, two points clear of Ipswich.

Eynon said: "It was a tidy performance and our tactics worked well. We gave them no time on the ball. We defended well as a unit. It was a good result after the Hemel game."

HARLOW: Brown, Grimley, L. Bowering, McFerran, Mackie (Vanbeck 68), Dobson, Harron, Branch (Williams 51), Romaine (capt), Prindville, Hawkins, Twiner (Eynon 15), Roberts, M. Bowering, Claridge.

Second-half converted tries from Charlie Colnman and Gleeson rounded off the win.

Bishop's Stortford U-17s were just too strong for Harlow and won 23-11.

Scrum-half Ryan Clark dived over to give Harlow an early lead.

Denzil Crafion struck two excellent penalties.

THE Hawks can look forward to a plum tie against Coca-Cola League Two club Dagenham & Redbridge in the last 16 of the Essex Senior Cup.

Harlow Town booked a fourth-round spot against the Daggers when they triumphed convincingly at Eastern Counties League division one side Halstead Town on Tuesday. Hawks boss Anthony Anstead, left, said: "It's good to play a League Two club and at home. All the pressure will be on them."

This tie must be played in the week ending December 5.

In winning at Halstead, Harlow picked up their first clean sheet of the season and also their first win in eight games.

They did so after Anstead rested regular keeper Jamie Waite and gave a debut to new signing Ashley Harris.

He also brought in youngster Damien Green at right-back and Gbenga Adegbite as well as Liam Thomas at centre-half - who had been out of first-team action since sustaining a foot injury on the opening day of the season against Great Waking Rovers.

There were also starts for striker Gavin Taylor and Daryl Doolan, who played on the wing, as well as forward Julian Edwards.

Anstead, who is set to sign a striker, midfielder and a central defender today (Thursday) but would not disclose their names, was pleased with his team.

He said: "It was great to get a clean sheet with a new defence apart from Michael Pelley who was sensational. We showed resilience in the first half and created more in the second half."

Harlow went ahead on 11 minutes when Lee Townrow headed Charlie Simpson's corner into his own net.

Taylor's goalbound header was turned away by home keeper Ed Wooten six minutes before the break.

Doolan doubled Harlow's advantage on 48 minutes when he converted Adegbite's cross from the left.

On 68 minutes, Harris dived brilliantly to his left to keep out a shot from Chris Bryan.

Harris then did well to keep out Tom Austin's 76th-minute free-kick.

Edwards made it 3-0 on 85 minutes when he headed home Jason Mason's free-kick.

Jones finishes sixth in Brazil

STEVE Jones, right, was sixth when he competed in the U-18 boys category of the Faldo Series Grand Series final in Brazil.

The 17-year-old Canons Brook Golf Club member was in joint third spot after firing a 72 (par) in the first round of the coveted event in Rio de Janeiro.

Jones then shot two 74s, finishing four over par over three rounds and eight shots behind London winner Jonathan Bell.

"It was a really good week and I learned a lot," said Jones. "I was happy with the finish. There were a lot of good players there. I did not play that well in the first round but got the ball in the holes well. I did not do well in the next two rounds. We can all play well but it's a question of consistency."
